In solidarity with and participation in the current academic worker strike happening across all UC campuses, the first year Environmental Art and Social Practice MFA cohort at UC Santa Cruz will not participate in campus Open Studios on December 2, 2022. Our social practice is currently situated at the picket line, in solidarity with international social movements, making work in the field, and working at a community oriented gallery off campus. In place of Open Studios at UCSC, the EASP cohort is in partnership with LANDING events and Gravy Gallery presenting a multimedia group show in two parts from December 2 through January 6. Please find details at the following links. We hope to see you there!
